Yea! we are now official, and can give out this award.

The award name is spelled slightly different than I thought it would be. I checked and the way it is spelled now is consistent with the spelling for this symbol on the Roll of Arms, and other heraldic sources.

Elspeth - do you want to see the award design that Tina did (since it has been so long :) after she updates the spelling of the award name? I'd love to get the design approved for duplication and painting before our next event.

One down, one to go.

I have info from a former Black Lion Herald on how to submit our Flamme de Or without the need to receive permission to conflict from the other Barony. I'll bring the submission paperwork to the Business Meeting. I'd like Elspeth to be the official submitter of record on this one, per recommendation, so that she and I are kept in the loop on the approval process. I'll need a check to pay for the submission. I'll fill out the request form at the Business Meeting.
